GENERAL NEWS SECTION

THEY'RE IN THE SPOTLIGHT AGAIN TODAY AS MAINE SHERIFF OPENS DEFENSE

MRS. NINA McALLISTER she testified to hearing Sheriff Cummings press Mrs. Clements' breast.

SHERIFF HENRY F. CUMMINGS He gave away a sick liquor to the sick without class distinction, his chief counsel says.

JUDGE JOSEPH F. CONNOLLY The chief defense counsel is not laying all his cards on the table at this time.

GOVERNOR BREWSTER He is hearing the evidence on the charges of neglect of duty against the sheriff.

ATTYS. FISHER AND CARTER The prosecuting attorneys intend to grill all defense witnesses, 'tis said.

MRS. GRACE LABAR As a witness for Cummings, she is expected to contradict her husband's story.

DECEASED HIM, SAYS CHAPMAN

Sense of Security Prevented Him From Fighting Extradition, He Contents

Here is the third of six articles by Gerald Chapman, arch-criminal, who sits within the gray walls of old Waterfield Prison in Connecticut waiting for death by the hangman's rope next Tuesday. The editor of the Boston Evening American publishes them, merely for the general interest they contain and because they give the first insight into Chapman's personal view of his predicament.

At the time of my arrest in Munich I did not seriously heed the talk of extradition to Connecticut to answer to the Skelly murder charge, as I had put that accusation on par with all the others, which, as I have pointed out, had eventually found proper solution.

My very innocence deceived me into a certainty that the accusation could not stand a fair hearing, and if I had been given a fair hearing I would have gone as far as I could have gone.

The people of Hartford County had heard of me long before my arrival in the State of Connecticut. They had read about the imaginary exploits of "The Skelly Crook," "The Arch Criminal of the Twentieth Century," "The Master Mind of the Underworld," and "The Deceitful Assassin." They had heard of me, and it is to be assumed that they formed their opinions relative to the guilt or innocence of a man who was supposed to be "cold blooded" and "blood thirsty."

QUOTES STATUTES

The attorney general of the United States ordered my removal to Connecticut to answer to the murder charge, notwithstanding the fact that before 1850 of the Revised Statutes says that he had no power to do so. Under Section 545 of the Revised Statutes the attorney general is authorized to change the place of imprisonment mentioned in the judgment of the court. But there has been no showing in support of the pending motion that any one of such contingencies (illness, poverty and insecurity of prisoner) has arisen and upon general principles of jurisprudence, and when the statutory contingencies have not been met, the sentence of the court in a criminal case should not be changed without notice to the prisoner, nor unless he consents or he has been heard upon it. (Law 11, Federal 1913.) So much for that.

I was railroaded to Hartford to be tried for my life. I am reliably informed by my attorneys that everybody in Hartford county embraced the conviction that I had

LEAGUE WORLD COURT LETTER A 'BLUNDER'

Washington, April 2 (U.S.A.).—Marshall Cummings was manifested today by administration officials over the action of the League of Nations in virtually instructing its member nations not to deal with the League's reservations to the World Court in the manner prescribed by the American government.

The Eric Drummond's letter to the forty-eight powers comprising the Court, asking that they oppose Washington's program of individual correspondence on the subject of the reservations, was characterized as "a most remarkable document."

The net result of the League secretary's effort probably will be a prompt rejection by the United States of the League's proposal to negotiate with the League powers the terms under which American adherence to the Court may become operative.

Mr. Bledsoe's open letter to the Court powers was characterized in administrative circles as "a blunder," and as a direct play into the hands of the irreconcilables in the Senate, who were checking the League.

Among the pro-Court Senators, the Drummond letter was widely "disgusted," although they generally refrained from comment.

BOY CANTOR AT SERVICE

Naval services in observance of Passover are being promoted by Young Israel of Greater Boston in the hall at Merchants Institute, 200 Hill avenue, Roxbury, on Monday and Tuesday mornings, the last two days of holy convocation.

It is an annual custom with the Roxbury and Dorchester Jewish youngsters, but this year the ceremony are to take on a new aspect in the person of a young lad chosen from the community to officiate as cantor.

Young Israel maintains a program dedicated to the perpetuation of traditional Judaism. The services are given every Saturday morning the year around. Leo Glusberg is president.

$113,750,000 IS WEEK'S DROP IN BROKERS' LOANS

Washington, April 2 (U.S.A.).—Brokers loans issued by New York member banks of the Federal Reserve system for the week ending March 24, totaled $2,069,139,000, a decrease of $113,750,000 from the preceding week, the Federal Reserve board announced today.

DEATH AFTER PARTY WITH BROWNING

Stella Lubin went to a merry Broadway party only nine days ago with her chum, Frances Heenan, and Edward W. Browning. Then she was taken ill. The "Cinderella Man" took her riding, but Stella's condition grew serious and she became weaker until she died—of heart disease, it is said.

PRINCESS HAS CHANGE IN HER LIFE BATTLE

London, April 2 (A.P.).—Friends of Princess Victoria, who is suffering from influenza pneumonia, remain hopeful of her recovery, although recognizing that her illness is serious. They say that unless the heart attack becomes more frequent and severe there is no reason to doubt the Princess ultimately will recover.

The general feeling of the public is that the Prince of Wales, who underwent a slight operation early in the week, is now suffering more from the influenza than the Princess. It is expected he soon will be allowed to come out of doors.

Queen Maud of Norway came to London to visit her sister, Princess Victoria, who was accompanied by her son, Crown Prince Olaf. King George visited for four minutes in the city on New York, and lived with her in a hotel. The third indictment charged abuse of the child.

FAVOR BUNKER HILL LIGHTING

The Bunker Hill calling for the illumination of Bunker Hill Monument was reported in the House today favorably by the committee on ways and means.

Residents at Charlestown had told the committee that the dark rocks and untended stairways of the historic shaft are being used as a tramping place for young couples of the neighborhood.

TWELVE YEARS IN U. S. PRISON FOR 'SLAVER'

James H. Carlson, forty-five, formerly of Seattle, Wash., and once-time resident of Quincy, was sentenced today to twelve years in Atlanta Penitentiary by Judge Eliza Brewster in U. S. Court, following a plea of guilty to indictment warrants charging three violations of the Mann act.

The first warrant charged Carlson with taking a twelve-year-old girl from a Boston home. He told authorities he wanted her to help with the housework at his Quincy home. Later, however, he took the girl to New York and lived with her in a hotel. The third indictment charged abuse of the child.

HOTEL PHONE PROBE VOTED

An order calling for an investigation into the price charged by hotels for telephone service was reported favorably by the House ways and means committee today. The probe is to be made by the Public Utilities Commission.

'Yeggs' Get $2,500

New York, April 2 (U.S.A.).—Crackmen accepted with $2,500 early today when they blew open a safe in a branch office of the Brooklyn Union Gas Company.

TENNIS CHAMPION GOING TO WED

EX-CONSUL JAILED FOR ACCEPTING BRIBE

Washington, April 2.—David C. Kerr, ex-ambassador vice consul at Vancouver, B. C., who also served in a consular capacity at Barcelona, Spain, and at Birmingham, England, was sentenced to serve one year in jail and fined $50 today in Criminal Court on a charge of accepting a bribe of $50 to facilitate the entry into the United States of a Chinese in violation of the exclusion laws.

DOCTOR'S LOVE NOTES SEIZED BY THE POLICE

Baltimore, April 2.—Fervent love letters, written by Dr. C. Sidney Isaac of Springfield, Mass., which the police believe, he expected would be turned over to his wife after his death, may never be received by her.

The missives are in the hands of Baltimore police, and Dr. Isaac, who attempted to take his life by gas in a room in this city last Tuesday, has disappeared, it is said.

King George Authorizes Publication of Queen Victoria Letters

In publication beginning Monday, April 5, of the Letters of Queen Victoria, the Boston Evening American and other Hearst newspapers are doing so with the fullest approval and approbation of His Majesty, King George V., of England. The following cable from Lord Stamfordham, private secretary to King George, was received by William Randolph Hearst:

London, March 22, 1926.

William Randolph Hearst, Esq., New York.

The King is very glad that through the popular newspaper press of the United States, a full presentation of Queen Victoria's character and personality, as revealed in her letters, should be made to the American people, between whom and her in her lifetime mutual feelings of sympathy and friendliness never failed.

(Signed) Stamfordham.

HUB SNUBS FIVE NUDE LADIES FROM ITALY

Museum Bars Paintings, Feeling Offend; Not So Good, Anyhow

Five paintings of nude women, set here for exhibition by the Italian government, will not be shown in Boston because the directors of the Museum of Fine Arts consider the pictures have insufficient artistic merit to warrant the risk of offending Bostonians.

All five of the censured paintings are full figures of nude women by Italian artists. Some bear the simple title, "Nude," while the one that the directors thought might be particularly offensive in the Hub is called "The Idol."

All were exhibited publicly in New York.

Pear of giving offense was just half the reason in barring the pictures, said Assistant Director James of the Museum.

"The paintings had little to recommend them in the way of art, and they might offend in Boston," he said. "Besides the matter, some futuristic and cubistic examples were withdrawn from the Boston exhibition."

Envoy Resigns

Madrid, April 2 (A.P.)—Marquis de San Esteban, Spanish ambassador to the United States, has resigned.

EASTER STYLES CHANGE BUT HAM AND EGGS' POPULARITY INCREASES

PIERRE GOUX, CHIEF AT AMERICAN HOUSE. Chef Goux knows what pleases the palate on Easter Sunday morning. "Is ham and eggs," he says, "and the dish is more popular today than ever."

JAMES SHENKLEY SERVING MISS CONNIE RUSSELL. This Faneuil Market scene is typical of thousands witnessed in Greater Boston markets today and tomorrow. There's plenty of eggs, reports say.

A FEAST FOR QUEENS AS WELL AS KINGS. Ham and eggs will be the universal order Sunday morning. For years egg eating contests in Boston homes have brought forth some real healthy appetites and market men report purchases indicate records will be broken this year.

TWO SOLDIERS RESCUED IN BOAT AT SEA

Picked Up Off Newport, Exhausted and Almost Frozen

Newport, R. I., April 2 (A.P.)—Two soldiers from Fort Snodgrass, N. Y., have given up deep-sea rowing as a sport. They were picked up seven miles from their post by the steamer Plymouth of the Fall River line, and landed at Newport today.

Privates Marcel Pells and Samuel Drapkin of Company B, 15th Infantry, went out for a row late yesterday afternoon, and their boat was carried out to sea by the tide and wind. A young woman passenger on the Plymouth saw their frantic signals last night, and the steamer was stopped for the rescue.

Pells and Drapkin were exhausted and almost frozen when taken on board the steamer. They said that four vessels had passed them and that one had almost capsized their little boat. They will be sent back to Fort Snodgrass today.

BOY FOUND GUILTY OF SCHOOL BREAKS

Harry Morgan, Jr., 16, of Minuteman street, Newport, held as a member of a gang of school breakers, was charged in Cambridge today on a broken charge in Brighton court.

He was found guilty in Brighton court yesterday morning on charges of breaking into public schools on Alston street, Brighton, and committing a short in Market street. The court found him guilty and sentenced him to the Reformatory School. He appealed and was set for $1,000 bail.

CITY SENDS EASTER BLOOMS TO SHUT-INS

Hundreds of potted plants, jonquils and tulips, were distributed today by Mayor Nichols to forty hospital and home shut-ins. The city proper and suburban sections receive gifts to the extent. The plants were from the city greenhouses.

JOY-RIDE BLOW SEEN IN ORDER OF MAYOR

Mayor Nichols has ordered an inventory of city automobiles, and City Hall believes that his action is based on a belief that many are being used for joy-riding.

Although denying that his order was directed at joy riding, the mayor's inventory indicates that he believes the expense of maintenance can be reduced. Department heads have been asked to report the number of "pleasure" cars in their charge and to whom they are assigned, the number of trucks and the number of chauffeurs on both "pleasure" cars and trucks, and where the cars are stored and the rate of rental.

102-YEAR-OLD INDIAN DIES; BOW AND ARROW EXPERT

Batavia, N. Y., April 2 (A.P.)—Alexander Snyder, 102 years old, a Seneca Indian of the wolf clan, died on the reservation in the western part of Seneca county. He was an expert in the manufacture and use of the bow and arrow. Snyder was second in point of years in this county to Mrs. Nancy Miller, an older Seneca Indian, who, according to latest reports, will be 107 this month.

APPEALS TO FOR LIFE OF SLAYER

N. E. BISCUITS WIN OVER 200 WESTERN RECIPES

Chicago, April 2 (A.P.)—Modern housewives can still bake biscuits and they can make them taste like angel food cake.

After sampling the product of more than 200 women who were participants in a baking contest, the judges gave first awards to Mrs. Mary E. Moran, a grandmother, who said she learned to bake biscuits in New England.

Her recipe follows: One quart of flour, sifted twice; two heaping teaspoons of cream of tartar; one heaping teaspoon of baking soda; one teaspoon of Madrid—King Alfonso washed the feet of 13 poor men and Queen Victoria did the same for 13 poor women in a Holy Thursday ceremony at the Royal Palace.

New York—A beauty from Iceland is to be a bride in a romance of the Yale Junior prom. Miss Gudrun Paulsen, who immigrated five years ago and was regarded as a perfect blonde type at the Yale Club, where she has been a model, is to marry Gregory Nott Camp, who is well connected socially in New York and has been in business in New York for many years. He is a Williams graduate. His parents approve the match.
Washington—How politics can put the cost of living: Members of the New York delegation to Congress were for at least one luncheon a day from prospective gubernatorial candidates during the rest of the session.
Albany, Ga.—Mixed up in an airplane, H. H. McHard, 81, and his bride of 71, who was Mrs. Kate Arrington, are on their honeymoon. The ceremony was performed by the groom's son, the Rev. W. W. McHard, and.

EXALTS MODERN WOMEN AS HOME OWNERS

Chicago, April 2 (A.P.)—Modern women have another defender in Robert H. Sexton, managing director of the sixth annual "Own Your Home" Exposition now being held here. Skirt, bobbed hair, the Charleston and other modern habits deployed by many reformers have not destroyed the home-making instinct in women, he says.
"I can't agree with gloomy persons who are predicting that the world is in a fearful state just because things are not done in the old-fashioned ways," said Mr. Sexton, in an exposition address.
"I say that no race or land is doomed when its people own their homes, and the interest in home ownership in America is not waning. In recent years, during which time the modern tendencies have been so hotly eared, I have seen more than a million and a half people, three-quarters of them women, eagerly seek information on how home ownership might be obtained."

Scientist is Getting the Low-down on Just How Much Fat the Earth Has

Washington, April 2 (A.P.)—Old Mother Earth, which has been tipping the scientific scales for many years at around six thousand million million tons—has, followed by 21 ciphers—has having her weight more accurately determined for posterity, but its a lengthy undertaking and won't be completed for at least another year and a half.

The recent adoption by large oil companies of the instrument known as the torsion balance for finding oil deposits has brought to light the progress being made here in estimating the weight of the earth. The instrument is used to weigh the entire earth.

STILL FOR NINE HOURS.

For three years Dr. Paul R. Heyl has been carrying on the patient, trying test in a small room 25 feet underground at the Bureau of Standards.

He has, on some occasions, held himself in one position for more than nine hours at a time, as not to disturb the sway of his delicate instrument. His subsequent retreat was chosen to avoid interference by surface forces.

Thus far only one of three sets of observations has been completed. The second Dr. Heyl expects to finish by June.

Harvard Seniors Queried About Their Habits

George Deboradas, senior class secretary, is prying into the private lives of his Harvard classmates. He has just sent them a very intimate questionnaire. George wants to know the name and birthplace of each man's father, the maiden name of the mother, and whether they are college bred. Also he wants to know the drinks and non-drinks, who smokes and who does not. Six hundred seniors have been asked to answer the questions.

Upon by Dr. Heyl as only a side issue in his experiment. For thirty years prior to the start of his work the law of gravitation had not been investigated, and what he mainly is seeking is another decimal for the 6.6 Newtonian constant, a numerical quantity used in determining the force of attraction between two such bodies.

When this figure, which has been tentatively found near to be 6.6, and others are discovered with a greater degree of precision, a mathematical computation is expected by the scientist to reveal this long-hidden secret of the earth.

RAILROADED TO PRISON, IS HIS CLAIM

Court Takes Under Advice—ment Plea of Man Against the Parole Board

Judge Pierce of the Supreme Court today took into consideration the petition of Philip De Cramsey for a writ of habeas corpus to get him released from the State prison, to which he was committed to serve an unexpired sentence for violation of parole.

On November 29, 1919, Cramsey was sentenced in Suffolk Superior Court to prison for six to ten years and on March 20, 1921, was paroled.

On August 15, 1923, the Parole Board made an attempt to extradite him from New York, but authorities there refused to surrender him. The next movement was an indictment against him in Middlesex county for non-support of his wife and children.

He was brought from New York on that charge and found guilty and the court ordered him to pay $5 a week for the child.

Cramsey then was arrested on a warrant of the Parole Board and returned to the prison. Cramsey claimed the indictment was not procured in good faith, but was prompted by persons financially interested in patents he owned. It also was charged by Cramsey unsuccessful efforts had been made to have him deported. The right of the Parole Board to return Cramsey to prison without a hearing was assailed by his counsel.

SEEK KIN OF 2 KILLED BY CAR

Melrose police communicated with the police of Lansing, Mich., today in an effort to find a sister of James Hawkins, fifty-five, and his sister, Mrs. C. J. Hawkins, who were killed by an auto at the corner of Main and Main streets.

The couple, according to the police, were riding Main street when an auto operated by Allen C. Whitford, twenty-one, of No. 1048 Main street, knocked them down and dragged them twenty feet. Miss Hawkins died on the way to the hospital. Her brother was killed instantly. ROTHROCK MAY WIN SHORTSTOP BERTH ON RED SOX

Californian Is Fastest Man on Squad

By JACK CONWAY

Logansville, Ky., April 2.—Jack Rothrock will replace Duffey Lee at shortstop for the Red Sox before the American League season in many weeks and if he continues to improve in his playing the way he has been during the past three weeks.

Rothrock is a twenty-one-year-old Californian. He is by far the fastest runner with the Sox. This speed reduces him to cover a world of territory at shortstop.

Other anxious fans watching only fielding ball early in the training season. He is rapidly overcoming this failing and is now fielding the ball and in some fielding the position well.

At the last Red Sox game, Rothrock's left hand, after Dan Lee, Jack got a triple. Jack Conway is the game at golf, while at Birmingham he created a home run drive over the right field fence.

Rothrock's great speed will enable him to acquire many of his hits, as he will also beat out slow infielders and bunt.

Lee has been feeling his position well this year, but he has been weak at the bat. If Rothrock can come to measuring up to Lee as a leader he will have the all-around top on account of his speed and close catching ability. He will then get polished off with experience.

BRAVES LIKELY TO SECURE JACK SMITH

Camden, N. C., April 2.—The Braves are looking mighty homeward today, one of the best conditioned and most hopeful ball clubs that ever went west toward Boston with a campaign just over the horizon.

Manager Bancroft, who joined the club at Jacksonville this morning, Judge Fuchs and everybody else excitedly interested, are more than satisfied with the physical and mental shape of the lots of young men who fill two special cars on this pilgrimage.

Fine baseball weather and plenty of time to work out combined to make the 1926 training season a great success. The ball field at Ft. Worth was at all times a great success. The ball field at Ft. Worth was at all times a great success.

INSIDE GOLF
By CHESTER E. BORTON

The finest method with which to acquire a definite good form of your own, the one that I have seen work out in a lifetime, is this: In this life it is with one swing. Just let the club swing like a pendulum. Swing it back and forth with the hands let the hands swing as about as high as your head. Swing in this way until you actually feel and observe the rhythm of this action. Then, to further emphasize in your muscles sense the rhythm of it, destroy the rhythm now and then by jerking the club, or otherwise. Presently you can let the club go a little further back, as you swing it back and forth. Notice particularly when you do this how the wrists act naturally in unison with the club, and observe, too, how the shoulders turn and how the right leg swings. Everything acts naturally when you do it that way—what is exactly the thing you were to accomplish. This method will take you unerringly to your best golf form, with maximum ease and ease.

CONWAY With RED SOX

By JACK CONWAY

Louisville, Ky., April 2.—The Red Sox will remain late today in obedience to the 25-day limit of the National League, which is the only one of the big leagues to have a limit on the number of days a team can be out of town.

They will not be back in the game by the middle of May, when the season will be well advanced. The Sox are a big team, but they are not a big team in the eyes of the fans.

Fitchburg Wins at Basketball

Chicago, April 2.—Sixteen team survives the national basketball tournament at the University of Chicago.

Worcester, Massachusetts, champion and fourth place team in 1925 was given out 17 to 4, by Nantucket, Pennsylvania, an entry passed with little notice in the opening round. Chicago, Minnesota, smothered the Atlanta, Ga., quintet, only one southern field goal being represented in the final score of 28 to 7.

The East strengthened its bid for the title, as a result of the Nantucket victory and that of Pittsburgh, which romped through a game with Lowell, N. H., 21 to 16.

Paro, N. D., dropped Enkha, Va., out of the running when the latter was defeated 19 to 16. Western Michigan took a 24 to 20 victory at 25 to 20.

In this review of prominent battles he will tell not alone of championships, but will refresh the memories of many of the fans who have witnessed thrilling contests in the smaller cities.

When Frank Moran K.O'd Jim Coffey

It was October 19, 1915, at Madison Square Garden. The bell just ended the second round. Moran walked toward my ring. He was sitting right next to my corner. His mouth was open and he smiled and showed his fangs. Jim Coffey, the mornman, was smiling toward his corner with a swollen eye. The house was mad. Every man in the audience was taken and it seemed as though everyone was trying to do the thing out.

Moran almost had Coffey on the beam at the bell and, although Jim was the favorite in the betting, some were thinking that Moran had a chance of winning. Willie Lewis grabbed Moran around the neck and sat him down.

"Frank," he yelled, "you broke his heart. You took all he had. He shot the works at you and he's through. Easy now, easy. He don't like that mauling stuff you're handing him. You're dropping his arms all the time. He won't shoot that left at you; he's afraid of the pounding under the heavy you've giving him. Keep cool now, you know. He's yours at the end."

10,000 MOTORMEN HOWL LIKE PACK OF WOLVES

Jim Corbett remarked that Moran was waiting for a signal. Corbett added that Moran had more than he had shown. Harry Harris offered to also on a bet on Moran at 100 to 40. A guy yelled he was on.

Coffey clipped Frank on the chin and 10,000 motormen were on their feet howling like wolves. Moran staggered to the ropes, but his eyes were bright and cheerful.

"Feed it to him, Frank," yelled Willie Lewis. Moran hit back at Coffey, but he still had that little air about him. Billy Gibson in Coffey's corner was waving his hands and telling Joe Jeannette that it was a gro-in.

Coffey looked like a pig.

On the level, Moran looked like a fellow who had had too much to eat. No pep in his punches. Coffey was very serious. He lunged forth with a terrific left. Moran suddenly woke up and crashed a right under Jim's beard. Jim fell on the ropes.

"That's the place, Frank," piped Jack Gleason. He doesn't like it there. Well, none of us do for that matter, you know."

They started mixing again. Moran was taking them on the chin and body without even wincing. It looked odd. Coffey thought it was a joke. He stood back with his right raised and his left stiff before him. Coffey pulled a haxmaker. He was half-way across when Moran slipped a right on Jim's chin. Coffey's face went red. He drove forward with his hands at his sides. He looked on his eye as Moran stopped to see him.

A wild yell went up. Everyone in the house was screaming.

COFFEY FOLDS UP UNDER MORAN'S ATTACK

Billy Gibson, the referee, jumped over to where Coffey was lying face down. Moran walked slowly toward him. You couldn't hear a thing.

Coffey got his hands under his head. He lifted himself up to a sitting position. The referee was counting four. Coffey got up and rose to the ropes, looking at an imaginary towel over his head. Willie Lewis yelled to Moran.

"Go after him, Frank," he yelled. He told Moran to go away and Frank hit. He was led to his corner. Moran started away with Coffey to the other corner. Moran's seconds told him to stay in the ring. Frank thought it was a mistake. He started to swing at Coffey again. Moran pushed him away and then the ring was full of seconds. Willie Lewis threw a towel in the air. Moran stepped back and waited with him toward his corner.

Hats and umbrellas began to fly all over the place. It was all over and Moran had won. Billy Gibson ran around saying that Jim should have taken the count. He said that Moran shouldn't have stopped it as Coffey was standing up. Everyone else seemed satisfied that Coffey had no more chance.

Two motormen passed me and said that Coffey gets "Tough. Frank's a real baw!"
